

Reconnecting HR - key propositions

- Employment relations (in general) and conflict management (in particular) is a strategic issue
- Development of managerial capacity and capability is a core strategic function of HR
- Business partners (everyone in HR) should be champions for fairness and positive employment relationships
- Generalism should be prioritised over specialisation